

Thank you thank you thank you for these wonderful, insightful messages! It all makes more sense now. My need for truth in my current relationships led the way to huge changes that we are experiencing right now. I am moving to my new residence tomorrow, after purging a lot of stuff - physically, mentally and emotionally. No car, no job, not much belongings, the universe continues to provide for all that I need, as the universe provides for all beings all they need. What a blessing this life is and what a blessings to receive these insightful messages from the masters through you. May you be blessed in every way to continue to do all that you do for all of us; may your days be filled with love, joy and peace always and may the universe continue to bless you with overflowing abundance. Thank you for being you, for all that you do. Have a peaceful, relaxing weekend! I will see you again my friend.

With Mary nothing is impossible.

Thank you so much for yesterday! Words can't express the gratefulness in my heart. The loving energy in that room was amazing and healing. Though I could not see the non physical masters in the room I sensed their power and love. When we first began the meditation I was holding back a rattling cough that I've had for a week and a half. A third of the way through the meditation the cough reflex was gone... totally gone...the congestion in my lungs cleared. That was just a physical confirmation for me that I was where I was supposed to be.

I find it so interesting how with all of the spiritual activities going on, I have not felt the urge or push to attend any of them; And now your work, which suddenly resonated so strongly with me that it was as though my guides were making it impossible for me not to be there. I have been receiving your newsletters for months and all of a sudden with the last one I was compelled to schedule the Akashic reading with you followed by a strong urgency to not wait, but to receive my activation now and to learn more about the activations. Of course there were moments when I wondered why couldn't I just wait? What's the rush??? But those thoughts were immediately crushed by the intense urge to just go and not be concerned about the impracticality or urgency.

I can honestly say that by attending the session was one of the most important choices I've made in my life. I can't intellectually explain it but I know in my heart that I received a special blessing from you and the Ascended Masters and your helpers. You give of your heart to assist others on the path that is the beauty of it, the giving of your time and energies with no thought of payment or return. You help from the heart... And God takes care of the rest. Wow that is what it's all about! I love that! That is Faith, that is Trust, that is Truth, and that is Love... thank you, Mary!
